WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24, 1866.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE, &c.

The President, in answer, informed us he had received the message, and would return it to us in the afternoon. The message reached the House o'clock, and was at once read. Before the reading was concluded, Mr. Bingham, of Ohio, moved the previous question, which was sustained by the House, and the message was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Bingham called up the bill to amend the act to admit the State of Tennessee to representation in Congress. It amended by striking out the first section, which declares that the State of Tennessee is entitled to representation in Congress, and inserting in lieu thereof a section declaring that the State of Tennessee is entitled to representation in Congress when the Senate and House of Representatives shall have declared that the State is entitled to representation, and that the Senators and Representatives from said State have taken and subscribed the oath prescribed by law for members of Congress.

Mr. Bingham moved the previous question on the bill as amended.

Mr. Stevens moved to lay the bill on the table.

Mr. Bingham called for the yeas and nays on the motion to lay on the table, which were ordered, and resulted—yeas 37, nays 111.

So the motion was not agreed to.

The previous question was then seconded, and the bill was passed—yeas 120, nays 37.

Mr. Bingham moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill was passed, and to lay the motion to reconsider on the table.

Mr. Stevens called for the yeas and nays on the motion to lay on the table, which were ordered, and resulted—yeas 111, nays 37.

So the motion was agreed to.

Mr. Bingham moved that the message of the President be referred to the Committee of Reconstruction.

Mr. Stevens moved to lay that motion on the table.

Mr. Bingham called for the yeas and nays on the motion to lay on the table, which were ordered, and resulted—yeas 111, nays 37.

So the motion was agreed to.

Mr. Bingham moved that the message
